

Physician Consent for Patient to speak with Neovare’s Genetic Counselor

Neovare by siParadigm provides complimentary access to board-certified Genetic Counselors for patients who receive genetic testing through Neovare. After the Physician communicates the results of genetic testing to the patient, s/he may refer patients for genetic counseling. Please note that Spanish speaking genetic counselors are available too. To refer your patient for genetic counseling through Neovare, please call ⁸⁴⁴₂₀₁ NEOVARE (636-8273) or visit us at www.neovare.com.

The Genetic Counselor will provide support and further explanation on the results of testing and reviews considerations for follow-up testing or procedures as needed. A genetic counseling summary note which documents this encounter shall be forwarded to the clinician for the record. Genetic counselors work as part of the health care team by serving as educators and providing supporting resources for both patients and physicians. The patient remains under the care of the physician at all times.

More formal, comprehensive Genetic Counseling, both local and remote, which considers the entirety of patient family histories beyond the scope of the present testing performed by Neovare can be located through the National Society of Genetic Counselors (nsgc.org). For questions, please contact your sales representatives at sales@siparadigm.com.

I hereby grant permission for Neovare’s Genetic Counselors to speak with my patients regarding their testing, as described above, and would appreciate a record of such encounter.
